ISSUE 005

JOHN'S HILARIOUS CHESS JOKE TO MAKE SURE YOU RETELL

1. Why are Leonardo, Raphael, Michaelangelo and Donatello so good at chess? Because Splinter taught them. It just makes sense! ☺
2. No but seriously, I heard they also watched a lot of chess "turtleorials" ☺
3. And actually, could Michaelangelo dodge any chess attack thrown his way? Shuriken ☺

JOHN'S CONCISE & PRECISE NUGGETS

In this newsletter I cover one of the big ideas that has helped me when playing: unorthodox openings. In chess, it's refreshing that there are so many "off the beaten paths" to start games, all of which still control the centre, develop and allow you to castle. They can really put the pressure on any unsuspecting opponents, of which there'll be many – ask me about some ☺
